

Cable-Mat

high visibility trip-prevention mat

Product Information

Slips and trips are the most common cause of non-fatal injuries in both manufacturing and service industries and account for over half of all reported injuries to members of the public.

These cost employers over £300 million a year in injury claims, lost production and other costs.

Employers, can help reduce slip and trip hazards through good health and safety arrangements. Effective solutions are often simple, cheap and lead to other benefits.

The Cable-Mat is specially designed for this purpose.

Bright, eye-catching border graphics highlight potential floor level hazards, while a containment recess in the back of the mat holds loose cables and wires in place. Manufactured with anti-slip nitrile rubber, this mat is suitable for most floor surface types.
